

Sinclair Broadcasting's decision forcing their stations to air an anti-Kerry documentary days before the election is a glaring example of the dangers of media consolidation. Sinclair uses public airwaves free of charge. This free use obligates them to serve the public interest. When large companies control the airwaves, we get more of what's good for the bottom line and less of what we need for our democracy.

Sinclair's actions should be stopped immediately and they should be reprimanded. This action by Sinclair shows why we need to strengthen media ownership rules, not weaken them. .
